The Retriever training in this series was developed by Paul Bakewell, III, the best-known Labrador breeder in the United States. With the collaboration of Mr. Bakewell, these scenes were photo graphed at the famous Deer Creek Kennels in St. Louis County, Mo., and have been adapted from the Purity Gun Dog Book, of which Mr. Bakewell is one of the authors. MOSTLY ABOUT GUN DOGS

Select a bold, water-loving dog for your training. All retrievers should be willing water dogs. In this picture, to the left, 3 Labs have plunged eagerly into the water after the thrown bumper. The 4th dog acts nis feet wet. This laggard would not be eligible for an intensive training course at Deer Creek.

Having decided on the dogs you will train, get down to fundamentals at first. Teach nim to "heel." This is done, at the right, as shown, by use of a training collar. Always give the command "Heel" as you start to walk. Keep the dog on your side, with his head close to your knee. Check him with a uick jerk on the collar when he gets ahead of you or pulls back. Practice sessions of 20 r 30 minutes a day at first are sufficient. continue until he heels automatically.

NUW-Better Control of ROOTWORM PEANUTS -at low cost

Now-with aldrin-you can stop southern corn rootworms on peanuts before they damage your crops. This powerful worm-killer is ideal for heavy soil where rootworms do the most damage.

Virginia growers prove aldrin boosts peanut yields-A Surry County grower jumped his yield from 1,730 to 2,110 pounds per acre. These 380 extra pounds of better peanuts brought $65 more profit per acre!

A Nansemond County grower used aldrin and got back 973 extra pounds of peanuts per acre from heavy soil! His yield went from 1,617 pounds on untreated land to 2,590 on aldrin-treated land. In dollars, that meant $172 more profit per acre. Just two pounds of aldrin are required per acre and aldrin's cost is only a small fraction of the increased profit it brings!

TWO EASY WAYS TO APPLY ALDRIN:

I. To get maximum benefits with aldrin, spray before planting or before June 15. After spraying aldrin, harrow the soil.

2. Spray after plants are up, just prior to cultivation. Use any standard spraying equipmenteven an ordinary weed-sprayer. The low concentration of aldrin used means clogging of spray

Land treated with aldrin produces a better peanut crop with higher quality. And that, of course. means more profit to you. Ask your county agent about this rootworm-killing insecticide.
